

we should protect the no call list. If a consumer has chosen to take their business to another company, they should not have to deal with being solicited by the former company. A consumers right to change banks should be respected.